

GUARANTEE

Our products are sophisticatedly designed and manufactured according to high technological standards. Every piece of finished product produced by our factory undergoes strict test and inspection to insure its quality before packed for shipment. Manufacturer guarantees to repair or replace any defective parts within one year period from dated of delivery.

However this guarantee excludes all responsibility on the part of manufacturer for defective parts caused through the negligence of the operator not following the operation instructions supplied with the equipment. If there is any defective piece, do not disassemble, but report to area distributor or manufacturer for instructions.
